Denver, CO

NHEC has signed “Memorandum of Understanding” (MOU’s) with a number of federal environmental agencies. Here, NHEC Chairman Manuel Hernandez signs an MOU at our 5th Annual Conference in May 2000 with the U.S. EPA. Signing for EPA is Assistant Administrator for Administration Romulo Diaz . Workshops are a key part of the Conference. Here, NHEC President Roger Rivera gives a presentation.

Students see first hand the effects of pollution at a Superfund site, one of the environmental site tours at the Conference.

Each year, students have the opportunity to attend tours of environmental facilities, including parks, forests, wildlife refuges, laboratories, and more. The “environmental site visits” are a popular and educational part of the Conference. Here, students at Rocky Mountain National Park learn from the rangers.

The Conference features a major Career Fair. Recruiters come to meet attendees, especially environmental college students, and offer jobs, including on-the-spot hires.

Recruiters come from the public, private, and non-profit sectors to meet the top quality college students present at the NHEC Conference.
